

I do not believe that is in the interest of the American public for the FCC to allow multiple TV station ownership and/or ownership of TV and newspaper in the same market by the same media entity. If there is any doubt about the limiting effect on the variety of programming available after such congolmeration just look at radio programming since the 1996 Telecommunications Act was enacted.